

Try Scottish Country Dancing!

Scottish country dancing is great exercise, it's social, and it's stimulation for the brain. It's danced in patterns, to the exciting music of jigs and reels, as well as to Scotland's unique, elegant strathspey music.

The next series of eight classes runs from 9 February to 30 March 2017. A discounted price of $50 for the eight classes is payable on arrival for the first class.

Classes are led by certificated teachers on Thursday evenings from 7.30 to 9.15pm, with a break for refreshments.

Venue is the Community Centre of St. Barts. See below for directions. Please arrive a few minutes early to register, change shoes, etc.

You don't need to bring a partner, we change partners after every dance. Please bring soft-soled shoes if possible.
